Judge O'Brien Tells Democrats All About Hughes At Opening Of Session In Rochester.

HUGHES NAMED ON FIRST BALLOT

Eleventh-Hour Decision Of Forces Opposed To Governor To Unite On Ambassador Hill, Proved Unavailing.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Rochester, N. Y., Sept. 15.—With the question of the gubernatorial nomination still unsettled and with the prospects of lively sessions ahead involving the merits of the desperate struggle between Murphy, chief of Tammany hall, and Senator McCarron, the Brooklyn boss, over the contested seats in Kings county, the state democratic convention opened here at noon today. Judge Morgan J. O'Brien, as temporary chairman, delivered the opening address in which he blamed the republican party for the recent money panic; eulogized Cleveland and lauded Bryan; and paid his compliments to Hughes in the following fashion:

The Arbitrary Hughes.
"It would have been difficult for the republican party to have chosen a candidate for governor assuming Governor Hughes is nominated) whose personality would have presented in clearer relief the essential distinction between the republican and democratic theories of government. We are informed by the public press that the governor reluctantly consented to ac-

MAINE GOES REPUBLICAN WITH REDUCED MAJORITY

Fernald's Lead Over Gardner Is 7,329 With 26 Towns Still To Be Heard From.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Portland, Me., Sept. 15.—Additional revised returns received early today from the state election yesterday after but slightly the result announced last night, the plurality of Fernald, republican, for governor, over Gardner, Democratic, remaining at 7,329, with 26 small towns and 26 plantations still to report.

Normal Lead Seriously Cut

Although the Republicans won in the state election yesterday, the Fernald of Poland being chosen governor over Obadiah Gardner of Rockland, the Democrats had the satisfaction of seeing the normal republican plurality cut to less than 10,000 votes for the first time in a presidential year for more than a quarter of a century.

All Four Republican Candidates for Congress Were Elected and for State Auditor, Charles P. Hatch of Augusta (Rep.) defeated his opponent.

Revised Returns for Governor from 468 out of 519 cities, towns and plantations, give Fernald (Rep.), 75,417; Gardner (Dem.), 64,993. The same places in 1904 gave Cobb (Rep.), 75,334; Davis (Dem.), 48,416. Remaining places in 1904 gave Cobb 1,630; Davis, 730.

This shows a republican loss of four per cent, and a democratic gain of 32 per cent. On this basis the republican plurality in the state was estimated at about 8,000.

The result, which was much closer than any of the republican leaders had anticipated, showed not only the warmth of the contest, but the popularity of Mr. Gardner throughout the state, in the cities as well as in the little rural districts where his fame as the head of the state grange, put Hartford, Conn., Sept. 15.—An unusual situation faces the democrats of Connecticut, who have assembled here for their state convention to name candidates for governor and other state officers and for congressional man-at-large. While it appears to be the general feeling among the leaders that the party this fall will enjoy prospects for success greater than usual, it seems probable that it will be necessary to draft a gubernatorial candidate to head the ticket. No fewer than half a dozen prominent democrats have declined to enter a contest for the nomination. The convention meets tonight for organization and will be presided over by Mayor Ignatius A. Sullivan of Hartford as temporary chairman. Tomorrow the nomination will be made and a platform adopted.

PRINCIPLE OF ELECTIVE JUDICIARY IS ATTACKED

U. S. Circuit Judge James G. Jenkins Believes Character Of The Bench Is Weakened Thereby..Would Have Governor Appoint.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Milwaukee, Wis., Sept. 15.—United States Circuit Judge James G. Jenkins, dean of the new school of law of Marquette university, delivered a striking address last night at the formal opening of the new department. In his address he told the point of view of the bench of the lawyer, and his declarations on the advantages of appointment rather than election of judges proved of particular interest.

He said in part:

"I can not repress the conviction that the principle of an elective judiciary, with short terms of office and the meager compensation allowed tends to weaken the character of the bench, to lower its dignity, to lessen its hold upon that respect which is essential to the due administration of the law, and to place temptations about the position to which it should not be subjected.

"I believe it to be in the interest of the state, in the interest of good government, to secure certainty in the law—to obtain the highest ability and the best experience of the profession in the adjudication of the law,—that judges should be appointed by the governor and should hold during good behavior, or until a specified age, liable only to removal by impeachment for high crimes and misdemeanors; that they should have a salary commensurate with the value in private life of similar ability and experience; and if retired at a specified age should not be thrown aside as a worn-out garment, but pensioned, that the closing years of a just judge may be passed in dignified ease."

"The bar is the handmaid of the bench," he continued, "largely aiding the character of the occupant. The impartial court represents the sovereign justice of the state. The next duty of the lawyer is double, due as well to his client as to the court. It is that of thorough preparation of his cause, aiding the court, benefiting his client."

LUMBER COMPANIES ARE BLAMED FOR THE FIRES.

State Forester Griffiths Criticises Them For Leaving Slashings Strawn About Scenes Of Operations.

Madison, Wis., Sept. 15.—"The lumber companies, who are more to blame for the forest fires than any others are the most extensively sources of loss," said Forester E. M. Griffiths. "The lumber companies send their logging crews through the woods, taking out the great trees and leaving the 'slash' strawn about where the ax leaves it. This brush dries and when rain falls to come for any length of time becomes like tinder and almost explosive in its inflammability. Then some settler in what I believe to be criminal carelessness in his haste to clear the land for grazing or plowing, lays the torch to the brush and the forest fire is started. Another cause of forest fires is the railroad locomotive, but we are overcoming this, as the railroads are cooperating with us in lighting the engines and carefully equipping them with effective spark arresters.

"For the past six weeks we have been posting special fire warning notices, the emergency kind authorized by the last legislature, forbidding the starting of any fire other than such as are necessary to warm the body or cook food. Settlers are not yet educated to this restraint, and many arrests have been made of those who have violated the law. The next legislature will be asked to enact a law to require lumber companies to burn their 'slash' as they proceed with their logging work. This will prevent forest fires and encourage growth of young trees, where the big growth is removed for lumber."

"Lincoln, Marinette, Sawyer, Douglas and Bayfield counties are suffering most from forest fires. The state has suffered a loss of $50,000 in fires on the state forest reserves, but the total losses in Wisconsin will amount to millions. We have 3,000 men fighting fires in Lincoln county alone. Our 200 regular fire wardens are empowered to deputize as many citizens as available and needed to extinguish a fire."

PRESIDENTIAL ASPIRANTS WAX UNCOMPLIMENTARY

'Taft Knows As Little About My Record As He Does About Questions He Attempts To Discuss.'--Bryan.

Bryan's Latest Hot Retort
Philadelphia, Pa., Sept. 15.—(By Associated Press.)—In a lengthy interview given out on the train between Baltimore and Philadelphia today, William J. Bryan made a hot retort to Taft's caustic answer at Cincinnati yesterday to the Commentator's comment on President Roosevelt's letter. He accused Taft of dodging and ways of the Republican presidential candidate: "Taft knows as little about my record as he does about the public questions he is attempting to discuss."

A $114,000,000 Error
The Nobankman denies that he wants government ownership of railroads but says that he does want regulation. He charges Taft with having made a mistake of $114,000,000 in his estimate of the cost of imperialism.

After acknowledging the greetings he entered an automobile and was driven to Doorn's hotel, the headquarters of the Bryan League of Pennsylvania, where the candidate was given a brief reception at which he shook hands with hundreds. He was then escorted to the office of the Philadelphia Record, where he spoke to a large crowd. Following the speech the candidate was driven to the Bellevue-Stratford hotel, where he was the guest at a luncheon given by a committee of New Jersey men.

THE PRESIDENT AND TAFT

President Roosevelt may not take the stump for Taft, and then again he may. At all events he will find a few vigorous opponents similar to the one sent last Saturday to his old friend, Conrad Kolars of Helena, Montana. In closing his letter, after dealing with railroads and corporations, he thus appeals to laboring men for support of the national republican ticket:

"I have striven as president to champion in every proper way the interests of the wageworker; for I regard the wageworker, excepting only the farmer, the tiller of the soil, as the man whose well being is most essential to the healthy growth of this great nation. I would for no consideration advise the wageworker to do what I thought was against his interest."

"I ask his support for Mr. Taft exactly as I ask such support from every fair-minded and right-thinking American citizen; because I believe with all my heart that nowhere within the borders of our great country can there be found another man who will as vigorously and effectively as Mr. Taft support the rights of the workingman as he will the rights of every man who in good faith strives to do his duty as an American citizen. He will protect the just rights of both rich and poor, and he will be relentlessly against lawlessness and injustice whether exercised on behalf of property or of labor."

"On the bench Judge Taft showed the two qualities which make a great judge: wisdom and moral courage. They are also the two qualities which make a great president."

WHAT IT COST

That the primary law is an expensive piece of machinery is generally understood, and especially by the candidates who contribute freely. The pictures of defeated aspirants, scattered over the country are like the fence-board advertisements of defeated aspirants, easy to recognize, but sad to contemplate.

E. L. Phillips of Milwaukee, who has never had much use for the law, estimates that the late unpleasantness cost the voters of the state an average of $2 each. He concludes that:

"Through the agency of the primary the state of Wisconsin offers its rich, old men an opportunity to buy the senatorship as sort of a floral tribute to themselves. It's a nice way to round out a successful career, I do not object to it. Only we ought to stop talking about the choice of the people. It's nonsense. The people have had little to do with it."

The entire vote cast for the four republican candidates is less than Roosevelt's plurality in 1901. The vote in Milwaukee county and at other labor centers looks much as if the union labor party voted for McGovern, and then perhaps, some democrats voted. It is safe to estimate that 20,000 borrowed votes were cast.

"It has been estimated that the primary cost the four republican candidates $100,000. Suppose it cost half that amount. We have the basis then, it costs $2 per vote to run a primary in Wisconsin, a law devised for the express purpose of giving the poor man a chance in politics."

"Lovely, is it not?"

"It certainly is 'lovely' and it ought to be the first duty of the next legislature to modify it to such an extent that its best friends would not recognize it. There was some talk that the senator would bolt the law and work for the defeat of Senator Stephenson, but there is no danger of that."

The senator is as badly embarrassed as the gentleman who was describing a circle in the pasture at the end of a bull's tail. He would like to get off, but there is no soft place to light, as he anticipates a scame with the same law in 1910.

There will be no senatorial interference at Madison next winter, and Senator Stephenson will enjoy the well-earned fruits of his investment.

ROOSEVELT MAKES HIS WILL

About ten days ago, says the Wall Street Journal, Mr. Bryan, in a public address, declared that he was the legitimate heir of President Roosevelt. At that time the Wall Street Journal called attention to the fact that Mr. Roosevelt was still alive and able to make his own will, and said that later in the campaign he had decided that it was appropriate for him to settle the dispute between Mr. Bryan and Mr. Taft as to who was the legitimate inheritor of his presidential policies.

President Roosevelt, in the letter published today, makes public his position will. From this it clearly appears that his sole heir in his policies is William H. Taft. Mr. Bryan is absolutely disinherited. His claims to recognition are brushed aside like those of an illegitimate offspring.

That Mr. Roosevelt's letter will help Mr. Taft's campaign in the west immensely there can be no doubt whatever. It is the hardest blow yet given to Mr. Bryan whose only hope of election lies in winning enough republican votes to overcome the normal republican majorities in the various states. He can only win these republican votes by persuading the people that he is the real representative of the Roosevelt reforms, and that Mr. Taft is really a reactionary. But how can he hope thus to persuade the voters when President Roosevelt, over his own signature, and in clear and forcible language, declares that Mr. Taft is not only in entire sympathy with his policies, but has been instrumental in a distinguished way in advancing them during the present administration, and that he is just the man to carry these policies forward to a successful completion in the next administration.

Between the last words of Grover Cleveland in which he indicated that it was the duty of conservative democrats to support Mr. Taft, and the letter of President Roosevelt in which he practically tells the progressive republicans that it is their duty to support Mr. Taft, Mr. Bryan has much to talk about during his trip in New York state.

"Uncle Joe" Cannon explained in his Danville speech the other day, why he opposed the Littlefield bill, and in so doing knocked out the last argument of the Methodist church opposition. The bill sought to restrain the shipment of liquors from one state to another, but was declared unconstitutional and opposed for this reason.

There is nothing alarming about the reduced republican majorities in the Maine election. Prohibition and local issues overshadowed state affairs and disrupted the party in power. The state will remain in the republican column.

The government is about to buy an albatross and the President is already planning for an arch trip. He should be persuaded to wait, until Mr. Bryan is disposed of.

The state of Iowa is again in line and Governor Cullum has sacrificed personal ambition for the good of the party. This is commendable.

A MEDICAL HERO.

This is the story of a beautiful heroism.

It happened some time ago in the Missouri university, but it is too good to be lost. It is a story not uncommon in the annals of the medical fraternity, which numbers so many quiet heroes.

Dr. Arnold was a distinguished surgeon and dean of the medical faculty.

One day when the doctor was at luncheon with some students a father rushed frantically into his presence and implored the surgeon to come to the aid of his child, who was choking to death from diphtheria.

Dr. Arnold started a student on the run to the lecture room for instruments. Going to the little patient, he kept up respiration until his instrument case was brought. An incision in the throat was made and a tube inserted. But the child's respiration was ceasing.

Immediately the surgeon knelt and placed his lips to those of the child and started respiration.

In doing so he sealed his death warrant.

AND THE KNOW IT.

Dr. Arnold was suffering from a severe cold, and his bronchial tubes were highly inflamed. Three days later he died.

And that is not all, glorious as it is. When asked by the startled and sorrow-stricken students why he did not let the father of the boy breathe the life back into the collapsed organ of the child the doctor quietly said:

"BECAUSE HE IS THE FATHER, AND THE CHILD NEEDS HIM. I AM A RACHELOR."

The world may seek little of such heroism, but it is of the sort that must swing all the doors of heaven wide open.

"Greater love hath no man than this—that he lay down his life for his friend."

Dr. Arnold's ready heroism transcended even this large measure of human love. It was not a frigid of him for whom he died. It was a little child, with no special claim upon him save that of humanity.

Arnold did not stop to balance values. Duty called, and he died.

Such heroisms come only from those long dedicated to humane service, who need no special inspiration to courage, who daily put their lives in jeopardy.

The world scarcely can measure the loss of a man like this, of whom it is not worthy.

But the example of his self-sacrifice almost atones for the loss.

DETAILS OF WRECK AT CHESTERTON, IND.

Chesterton Ind., Sept. 15.—One Chicago woman was almost instantly killed and nearly two score of other persons, most of them residents of Indianapolis, were more or less seriously injured in one of the worst excursion wrecks of the year, which occurred at Chesterton, 21 miles from Chicago, Monday.

A Lake Shore suburban train known as the "Chesterton theater dummy," crashed into an Indianapolis excursion train which had been stalled near the station. The dome smoke blown down from the northern forest fires is declared to have been one reason for the accident.

The engine of the suburban train struck the chair car, which was the rear coach of the excursion train, with terrific force and plowed its way through a mass of humanity which packed the seats and crowded the aisles. In the impact three-fourths of the car was telescoped and the engine of the dummy train wrecked.

Cause of the Wreck.

The first information as to the cause of the wreck obtainable was to the effect that it was due to the failure of the flagman of the excursion train to walk back and notify the approaching "theater dummy" that his own train was stalled.

This and a heavy fog with the forest-fire smoke, which made it impossible to see more than a dozen feet ahead of the engine, are said to have been responsible for the wreck.

The Chicago woman who so far is the only death victim is Mrs. Esther Hecox, 55 years old, who lived at 571 Sixty-third street. She was on her way to Indianapolis with her daughter, Miss Frances Hecox.

Three Killed on Yazoo Road.

Memphis, Tenn., Sept. 15.—Passenger train No. 314 on the Yazoo & Mississippi Valley railroad was wrecked near Chickasaw, Miss., Monday afternoon. Three persons were killed and 30 injured.

The dead are: Mrs. Virgie Graham, wife of Hon. A. M. Graham of Glendora, Miss., an unidentified girl, 25 years old, and an unidentified woman.

The train was running at a high speed when, at Donham, a small station near Chickasaw, it jumped the track. The chair car and one of the passenger coaches, both filled with people, turned over, an embankment and were badly smashed.

Among the Fate.

Benjamin Franklin, ablest philosopher of them all, was much inclined to increase of girth in his later years, yet he could not be called obese. He was constantly giving advice on the subject of restraint and throwing in, as chronos, Iacanian wisdom. Yet he was not a lover of bacon, and seldom ate ham.—New York Press.

STEPHENSON HAD 8,880 PLURALITY

According to Official Canvass for All Counties Except Milwaukee—Glimmer of Hope in Beedle Camp.

That United States Senator Isaac Stephenson of Marinette was the victor over Samuel A. Cook of Neenah, his nearest competitor in the recent primary election by a plurality of 8,880 votes is shown by an official canvass of all the counties excepting Milwaukee, where the official count has not been completed. However, the official count there is expected to be within a dozen or so votes of the unofficial count made immediately after election.

The totals were as follows:

Stephenson	56,323
Cook	47,443
McClure	42,941
Hutton	35,000

Plurality for Stephenson, 8,880.

On the democratic ticket, Neal Brown of Wisconsin received 25,488 votes to 12,075 for M. A. Hoyt of Milwaukee.

State Board Adjourns
Madison, Wis., Sept. 15.—The state board of canvassers met today in the office of Secretary of State Prentiss and adjourned until the results of the primary election of two weeks ago are returned and tabulated for final action. Five counties, including Milwaukee, Polk, Manitowish, Douglas and Green, are not yet heard from.

Hope in Beedle Camp
A ray of hope shone into the Beedle camp yesterday, when the official returns of Oneida county came along and cut down the plurality of J. E. Abbott, Beedle's opponent, to scarcely 130 votes. Oneida county had been reported as carried by Mr. Abbott by a margin of five votes, but the official count gave Beedle a lead of 46 in Oneida. It is said that Milwaukee county, reported as giving Abbott a plurality of 768 votes, in fact gave a plurality that in the official returns will more nearly approach 800 for Abbott.

FLOORING OF PORCH UNDER CONSTRUCTION FOR FLAT-DWELLERS COLLAPSED

This morning about half past eleven part of the flooring of a porch being put up for the flat dwellers over Brockhaus' dry house fell from the third or second floor. Luckily no one was on or near the structure at the time. This is the second accident of a like nature that has occurred on this building, the other being when a plank which was being put up for Mr. Brockhaus fell and broke. The porch is being put onto the building by Mr. Ryan, the owner, for the accommodation of the people living in the building, the rear portion of the building having been torn down.

PEACH SEASON NEARING THE END.

The peaches this year have almost gone. The only good peaches left for canning are the Albertas, which are grown in Michigan. Local dealers say that when they are gone it will be too late to can. The Albertas however are very desirable for canning, possibly are superior to anything on the market. A canvass of the local situation brings out the information that a carload of fresh Albertas is to arrive today and will be distributed among the local dealers so as to be on sale Monday. This should furnish a sufficient amount of peaches to satisfy the demand. It seems that owing to the hot dry weather this year the peach crop was quickly used up and that when the car was received for Janesville, the wholesalers felt that they had been fortunate. It is not expected that another good lot of Albertas can be secured and it therefore behooves those ladies who desire to can peaches to act upon this timely information.

Tyranny of the Servile.

NINE NEOPHYTES PUT THROUGH SPROUTS

Rusk Lyceum of High School Initiated Nine New Members Last Night.

Last evening at the High School a number of neophytes were initiated into the Rho-Iota-Sigma-Kappa society at their first meeting this year, by the sacred rites and ceremonies which are performed upon their prospective victims. This society has been known as the Rusk Lyceum. The following are those who were put through the customary course of sprouts, which they dare not reveal under penalty of death: Willis Southard, Vincent, Koch, Donald Korsch, Robert Cunningham, Glen Robertson, Archie Keating, Noyes Smith, Allison Burckell, and Herbert Williamson. After the initiation the members enjoyed a picnic at the expense of the new members and then paraded the streets singing their favorite songs. While passing down South Main street they met Mayor Heddlie in his equipage and greeted him with a "tiger."

At a meeting which the society held this noon at the High school, it was decided by the members not to adopt the new name but to retain the old one, the Rusk Lyceum Literary and Debating society. The addition of the new members brings the number of the up to twenty-five, their regular number as quite a few of their members graduated last year.

LEO KINGSLEY WAS GIVEN A SENTENCE

Pleaded Guilty this Morning and was Sentenced to a Year and Six Months in Waupun.

Leo Kingsley, arrested Saturday night and charged with indecent exposure of his person, appeared in the municipal court this morning for his examination. When the case was called he waived the examination and the trial was set for September 21st. Kingsley through his attorney, C. W. Reeder, then filed a petition asking for an immediate trial, which was granted, whereupon he entered a plea of "guilty."

Judge Pifford asked him if he had anything to say for himself but Kingsley had no excuses to offer. In view of the fact that he was sentenced to the Green Bay reformatory for two years on the 6th of January, 1906, Judge Pifford fixed his sentence at one year and six months in Waupun at hard labor, sentence to begin at noon today. He will be taken up today or tomorrow by the sheriff.

Alce Johnson was fined $2 and costs this morning for being drunk and disorderly and paid.

BLUMH EXAMINATION.

The examination of Ernest Blum was taken up this afternoon at two o'clock. Blum is charged with indecent exposure and in the complaint the fact that Blum has already served two years in the states prison is stated. This makes Blum's alleged offense a states prison one. Both the complaining witnesses testified as to the circumstances of the offense which took place on Eastern Ave, just off from Center Ave, on Sunday afternoon about six o'clock.

Attorney J. J. Cunningham appeared for Blum.

At a late hour this afternoon the examination had not been finished.

40 YEARS AGO

Janesville Daily Gazette, Sept. 15, 1868.—Rock County Fair.—The Opening Day on the Fair Grounds.—Up to four o'clock this afternoon, there were about eight hundred entries with a prospect of more to follow. Today the main feature of interest was the boys' riding match, which took place at 3 o'clock. The first prize was awarded to Fred Putnam of Janesville, the second to Clarence Schuyler, and the third to Wm. Fisher of the town of Coater. Tomorrow there will be a trial of red and carriage horses, trotting races, three year old colts, running races, a three year old, a sack race for Gookin's prize, a base ball game and a bee-keeping's meeting at two o'clock.

Severe Accident.—Major Chas. McIlhenny met with quite a severe accident on Saturday afternoon, while engaged in raising the frame for a building near the Monterey bridge. A heavy timber slipped, through the carelessness of those handling the timber, and struck Mr. McIlhenny, he at the same time being thrown upon another stick. His right thigh and the left side of his chest were considerably injured, but he is able to be about again.

Adjourned.—The examination of Watts was postponed until tomorrow morning. The ground upon which the delay was asked was the illness of the District Attorney and the absence of one of the witnesses subpoenaed by the state.

Col. John C. Spooner, of Madison, was married on the tenth of this month to Miss Anna Mahne of the same city. The bride is well known for her musical accomplishments, while her husband is a young lawyer of fine promise.

Mahne Election.—Portland, Me., Sept. 11.—Midnight.—From returns received from the principal towns and cities, the Republican majority is thus far 29,000.

London, Sept. 15.—Raverty Johnson had an interview with the queen yesterday; he was presented by Lord Stanley and gave his credentials as United States Minister.

New York, Sept. 15.—A steamer called Dunbarton which has been fitting out at various places in this city and Brooklyn, sailed from this port about six weeks ago under very mysterious circumstances. Information which is in the hands of United States Marshal lead him to the belief that her object is to take a cargo of slaves from the coast of Africa to Cuba or Brazil. There was no evidence furnished enough to authorize her seizure while she was in port, but later information has confirmed the Marshal in his belief.

ARKANSAS NIGHT RIDERS

ORGANIZING TO REDUCE THE COTTON ACREAGE.

Farmers Threatened and Ordered to Hold Their Crops for the "Minimum Price."

Jonesboro, Ark., Sept. 15.—Night riders are organizing in northeastern Arkansas. It is reliably reported, for the purpose of reducing the cotton acreage for next year and compelling the holding of this year's crop for the minimum price set by the International Farmers' Union convention which met at Fort Worth recently.

Three farmers in Craighead county and one in Polk county have been threatened by a band of night riders and considerable anxiety is felt by the cotton buyers and planters.

Early Monday a farmer on the road with cotton to Lake City for marketing was turned back by a band of 20 men on horseback with orders to hold his cotton for the "minimum price."

Little Rock, Ark., Sept. 15.—Regarding the appearance of night riders, thought to have been members of the Arkansas Farmers' Union, at Lake City, near Jonesboro, R. H. McCulloch of Boone, Ark., chairman of the executive committee of the Arkansas Farmers' Union and secretary of the national organization of the union, gave out the following statement:

"I have heard of no movement on the part of the union farmers in Arkansas to take to night riding and was greatly astounded when I read an account of night riding in Mississippi. However, some of the union farmers are sore over the way in which the condition of the cotton crops in Arkansas has been misrepresented by cotton men who desire to keep the price of cotton down and who are claiming a big crop ahead, which is not true, and I would not be surprised if some of the people adopt drastic measures. However, anything in that line is not done in the name of the union. The union has authorized no such movement or measures, or, at least, if so, I have heard nothing of it."

He declared that the union would not stand for any destruction or damaging of property.

CONTEMPT RULE AGAINST THAW.

Must Explain Failure to Appear in Pittsburgh Proceedings.

Scranton, Pa., Sept. 15.—Attorney Albert F. Myers of Pittsburgh appeared before Judge Archibald in the federal court here Monday to ask for a rule to show cause why Harry K. Thaw should not be declared in contempt of court for his failure to appear in Pittsburgh Friday last at the hearing before Referee Blair in the Thaw bankruptcy proceedings. Judge Archibald granted the rule and fixed Monday next to hear the argument.

White Plains, N. Y., Sept. 15.—Harry K. Thaw arrived here late Monday from Poughkeepsie and was immediately taken to the county jail and put in a cell in the hospital section.

The Safest Investment Today is a House—Build Now.

Banks will pay you 3 or 4 per cent. Some mining stocks MIGHT pay you ten in three or four years, but a house WILL be worth at least 20 per cent more in two years and that is pretty good interest on a perfectly safe investment.

This kind of an investment is absolutely sure because lumber prices are bound to go up early this fall.

There has been more building in Janesville this year than for years. The shrewd business men are taking advantage of the low prices in lumber and building material.

We are selling land after land of lumber to people who see it this way. If you intend to build, better look into the matter NOW. We have the finest of northern pine, hardwood flooring, cedar shingles, cedar posts, cement, plaster, roofing, etc. We give prompt deliveries—one piece or a wagon load.

MORE DETAILS OF "RUNAWAY" ENGINE

Twenty Passengers Were Saved From Terrible Wreck by Engine's "Dying" Before It Reached Judo.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.) Broadhead, Wis., Sept. 15.—A wild train with twenty passengers aboard, most of whom were women from this city and Monticello, made a dash from here toward Judo Friday noon and the lives of all those on board were in danger because of a freight train being on the main track at Judo, but were saved from a horrible death by the engine "dying" before it reached Judo.

The engine had been standing near the coal shed here while the crew was at dinner and it was started by an Italian laborer who mounted the cab and threw open the throttle, out of curiosity. He leaped from the locomotive when it charged toward a coach and baggage car standing in front of the depot. The engine rammed into the cars, which were ready for the regular trip on the New Glarus branch and started off toward Judo. As soon as the possible disaster was known, a telegram was sent to Judo to have the freight train get onto a side track but it was too long for the aid. The steam in the engine gave out when the wild train was a mile and a quarter this side of Judo and a horrible catastrophe was averted.

It is said the fireman, who was left in charge of the locomotive while the engineer was at dinner, left the engine contrary to orders and during his absence the Italian started the locomotive.

Mrs. W. F. Schenck, wife of Editor Schenck of this city, was one of those on board the wild train.

The equipment had been part of the special train that took over 500 people to Monroe for the Green county fair.

The front end of the engine was badly damaged by the impact with the cars and was sent to Milwaukee for repairs.

Archery by Mail.

Playing chess by cable is a thoroughly familiar feature of that game in this part of the world, but playing active outdoor match games by mail is a new thing in the way of sporting contests. Out in Atchison, Kan., there is an archery club that recently played a match game with the Chicago Archery club by mail, each team shooting on its own grounds and mailing the scores to their opponents on the following day. And they found it exciting at that.
